Who made the quote, and are they famous for anything in particular?

What time period was the quote made in?

Was there any historical significance to the quote, or was the quote made in regards to any significant historical event?

If you are not familiar with the context of your quote, please research the quote and the person that originated the quote?

After researching your chosen quote and its originator, have you been using the quote correctly, and did you learn anything that you did not know about the quote or its originator?
